

Dell Technologies appoint new global channel chief

Dell Technologies has appointed Rola Dagher as its new global channel chief to lead global partner strategy, vision, enablement, programme design and experience.

Dagher replaces Joyce Mullen who leaves the company after 21 years of service. She will assume the role on 7 September and will report to Dell Technologies' president for global sales and customer operations, Bill Scannell.

The company also made changes to its channel sales teams to align them to Dell's North America and International sales leaders, John Byrne and Aongus Hegarty.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>