

EdTech business gets boost from Raizcorp partnership

Partner Elite, a division of business incubator Raizcorp, recently entered into a partnership with Advantage Learn, a high-growth educational technology business. Advantage Learn provides quality content and educational support through a combination of blended and online learning with a special focus on mathematics, science and NBTs (National Benchmarking Tests). The partnership between Advantage Learn and Partner Elite not only supports the current national discourse on the critical importance of STEM subjects at the school level in South Africa, but also has the potential to expand its offering to include high-quality bespoke tertiary education support as well as to grow into an export model.
