

Facebook launches Moments app

On 25 August 2015, Facebook launched the Moments App on the App Store and Google Play in South Africa. This standalone app gives users a quick, easy way to give photos to friends and get photos back...

After events, celebrations, trips or a night out, it is no longer a hassle to collect all the photos one will want to look back on. With Moments, one can give photos to friends, get their photos and keep them all in a single private place.

It also keeps all synced photos organised and allows one to search them. It automatically creates beautiful movie compilations of one's best photos, synchronized to music that one can quickly customise and share with friends. It uses facial recognition technology to group photos based on the friends who are in them. This same technology powers tag suggestions on Facebook.
