

Young Nigerian filmmaker virtually directs short film

Chidinma Igbokweuche, also known as Didi Stories Production, and her team of young filmmakers virtually created a short film titled Chaos.

Chaos is an experiment birthed from the desire of these young filmmakers to find new and innovative ways to create during the Covid-19 pandemic lockdown.

The movie takes a twist on most people's experience during the pandemic period exploring the extreme lack of emotional connection and nonchalance that come with Zoom calls.
