

Potential Vodacom strategic stake in iBurst

iBurst confirmed yesterday, Monday, 13 November 2006, that Vodacom is in the process of finalising the acquisition of 10% of the wireless broadband provider. The potential strategic partnership has several positive ramifications for iBurst and its subscribers, including access to additional distribution outlets and the "legendary marketing muscle".

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>