

ZimboTube video sharing website launched in Zimbabwe

Donald Chabata, known as Tyga Sparta, has developed a Zimbabwean video-sharing website titled ZimboTube. ZimboTube is just like YouTube and allows users to upload, view, rate, share, add to playlists, report, comment on videos, and subscribe to other users.

Image source: Gallo/Getty.

Chabata said he realised the demand of YouTube by Zimbabwean people and thought of an idea of creating a similar website that can cater for the locals.

“I saw that YouTube was on demand by Zimbabweans and realised that we also have what it takes to create such an application or website and I went for it, here it is, ZimboTube is now live” he said

“Just like what YouTube does our own ZimboTube also offers a wide variety of user-generated and corporate media videos. Available content includes video clips, TV show clips, music videos, short and documentary films, audio recordings, movie trailers, live streams, and other content such as video blogging he added.

ZimboTube website has different user features such as, upload videos that allows a user to upload any video from their device and share it online.

Source: NexTVAfrica.com.