

New communications manager appointed for Wines of South Africa

Editor and wine writer, Maryna Strachan has been appointed as communications manager for Wines of South Africa (WOSA). Strachan will be tasked with liaising between WOSA and its member producers, including that of international trade and media. Strachan will furthermore provide support to Siobhan Thompson, CEO of WOSA, through insight and commentary on the development of the South African wine industry.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>